

100% Pure
Turkish—
the MILDEST and
BEST tobacco for Cigarettes.

Singayros
Makers of the Highest Grade Turkish and Egyptian Cigarettes in the World

If you want the MOST cigarettes for your money—DON'T buy Helmar.

Helmar is not that kind.

You buy Helmar for real Enjoyment—pure Turkish tobacco Enjoyment!

Quality-Superb

FIRST U. S. ENVOY TO POLAND

HUGH S. GIBSON, Secretary of the American Embassy at Paris, who has been chosen as the first American minister to Poland, according to a dispatch from Paris. Mr. Gibson will leave for Warsaw next week with Ignace Paderewski, Polish foreign minister, who is in Paris. In the early days of the world war Mr. Gibson was secretary of the legation at Brussels under Brand Whitlock, and personally investigated German atrocities in Belgium.

PRINTERS VOTE TO BUY $3,000 BONDS

The Columbia Typographical Union granted an appropriation of $3,000 to buy Victory loan bonds at its meeting yesterday afternoon. This move is keeping up the splendid record this splendid record this organization has made in subscribing to all the Liberty bond issues, making a total subscription of $12,000. It has given to all the issues, $2,000 to each of the first three and $3,000 to each of the last two loans.

In addition to the corporate subscriptions, individual subscription of members has been very creditable and has shown a steady increase with each issue. The individual amounts taken are as follows: First loan, $138,000; second, $156,000; third, $188,000; fourth, $250,000, and the average of these increases will bring the Victory loan total to $400,000.

Marsh A. Bodenhamer was again nominated for president of the organization. This is the first time in the history of the union, which has been in existence a hundred years, that any one has received this honor the third time.

George G. Selbold was nominated unanimously for his sixteenth term as secretary. Nominations for other offices were as follows: Vice president, Frank D. Secor; treasurer, Jerome V. Johnson; sergeant-at-arms, William C. Fechtig; doorkeepers, Edward W. Davidson and William H. Gilliland; trustees, Joseph E. Goodkey and Joseph C. Whyte; auditors, John O. Cole, Royat E. Corwin, Ernest L. Elwood, and Charles W. Radley; executive committee, George C. Lear, Percy I. Low, Edgar L. May, J. Harry Phillips, Charles M. O'Connell, George G. Wilson, Edgar T. Brown, William H. McLean, Claude L. Mallard, Edgar F. Thompson, Wilson H. Cook, and John F. Quinn.

New members admitted to the union are George H. Helvie, Albert H. Throver, Frederick W. Speaker, Frank Horton, Joseph Gaganus, Raymond C. Donaldson, Charles J. Morrison, Edward A. Jell, and John Beal.

LIPTON MAY WED TO ESCAPE TAX

NEW YORK, April 21.—"It might frighten me into matrimony if the British government should place that tax on bachelors," declared Sir Thomas Lipton, here jokingly, "of course, with England's vast number of women, exceeding the male population there may be some chance for an old chap like myself now."

"I haven't quite made up my mind how I would meet it," said he, referring to the tax, "but if the British government places such a tax on us, I might, if I should find the right article, marry in this country and escape the tax."

2,750 JEWS MASSACRED IN UKRAINIAN POGROM

PARIS, April 21.—Detachments of the command of General Petura, the Ukrainian peasant leader, have been carrying out excesses against the Jews in Galicia, according to information reaching the Polish national committee here. At Husiatyn and Fastov, it is declared, 2,500 Jews were killed or wounded. At Papiarka 200 are said to have been killed. The Ukrainians are said to have pillaged the Jewish shops at Javoroff, northwest of Lemberg, and to have committed similar excesses at Czortkoff, west of Husiatyn, and at Lowaczna.

"MY AUTO, MY DAUGHTER!" CHICAGO, April 21.—M. C. Walde's daughter, Isabella, disappeared. He offered a reward for information of the family car which went with her.

TROLLEYS CARRIED 11 BILLION IN 1917

Over eleven billion fare-paying passengers were transported on street and interurban railways in the United States during 1917, according to a report to the Department of Commerce today.

This represents an average of more than 100 trips for each man, woman and child in the country.

The electric railway companies, the report states, during that year: Operated 102,003 cars on 32,535 miles of lines, comprising 44,812 miles of tracks.

Employed 294,826 persons to whom were paid salaries and wages aggregating $257,340,362.

Derived revenues amounting to $650,149,806 from their railway operations.

The rates of increase in the various items presented by the report were in most cases materially less during the period 1912-17 than during the preceding five years.

This report is compiled on figures received from 947 operating and 364 lesser railway companies, it was stated.

NEWSPAPERMEN TO URGE VOTE FOR D. C.

Crystallization of the campaign for suffrage for the District will commence tonight at a mass meeting of the Central Citizens' Association at Gonzaga College Theater, 45 I street northwest, the unique phase of the meeting being short addresses by representatives of all the local papers.

Earl Godwin, of The Times; L. Montu Bell, of the Herald; Dr. J. R. Zimmerman, of the Post, and G. A. Lyon, of the Star, are the men chosen as the principal speakers, and will be introduced by Thomas J. Donovan, president of the Central Citizens' Association.

Frank J. Hogan will bring the meeting to a close with a discussion of the legal phases of the matter.

The hall is one of the most commodious in the city, so a general invitation has been extended to the public, and, as the present-day question of suffrage includes the women, they are particularly invited.

The main object is to convince Congress that taxpayers in Washington believe they should be allowed a vote in their own government, and that the state of things at present is not only unconstitutional, but contrary to the basic principles of a free democracy.

When Things Are Tense, You're Past Participle In Yank's Love Grammar

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., April 21.—A local boy with the Medical Corps of the American Army of Occupation in Germany writes thus to his mother:

"You see a beautiful girl walking down the street. If she has silk stockings on, she is feminine. If she is singular, you become nominative. You walk across to her, changing to verbal and then become dative. If she's not objective, you become plural."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

"You walk home together. Her mother is accusative. You become imperative. You go in and sit down. The little brother is an indefinite article. You talk of the future. She changes to the object. You kiss her and she becomes masculine, her father is present, things are tense and you are a past participle."

WILL ASK CONGRESS FOR NURSES' RANK

The National Committee to Secure Rank for Nurses, of which former President Taft is honorary chairman, will make a determined effort to get legislation in the new Congress.

Attempts will be made to secure hearings before the House and Senate Military Committees soon after the extra session opens. Also, the endeavor will be made to secure the backing of Secretary Baker, Surgeon General Ireland and others of prominence in the War Department.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight cars, and on mattresses on the floors of warehouses in Paris and had been turned away from hotels because they were not officers.

Copies of the resolution which was recently passed at the convention of the D. A. R. in this city will be sent to the members of the military committees as well as to high officials of the War Department. This resolution calls on Congress to confer rank on army nurses. The D. A. R. was stirred to indignation by stories told by returning nurses and it was charged that sick nurses had been denied transportation in ambulance trains, that well nurses had slept on straw in box freight